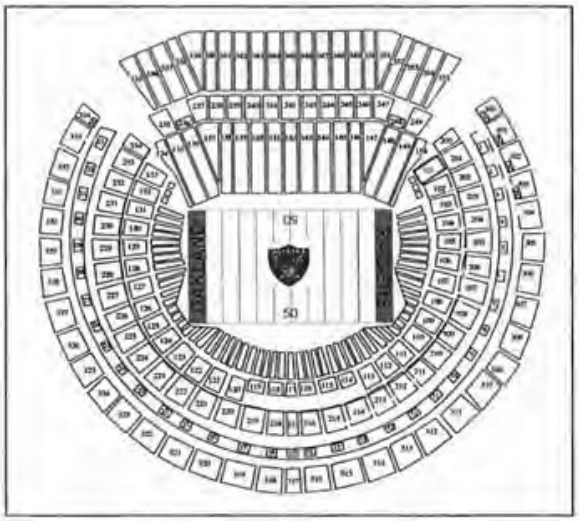
The Oakland Raiders Facility

The Oakland Raiders permanent facility sits on approximately 13 acres in the Harbor Bay Business and Research Park in Alameda. The state-of-the-art facility is located just west of the Oakland International Airport, about one mile from the team's former training facility on Doolittle Drive in Oakland and about three miles from McAfee Coliseum.

The 100,000-square foot facility houses the team's executive and administrative offices as well as coaches offices, player meeting rooms, locker rooms, training facility, television and radio studios and media center. Three full-sized practice fields are located on the property. The Silver and Black moved football and business operations into the facility in mid-June 1996 and in 1997, major improvements and renovations were made at the facility to suit the team's present needs. In 2002, the Raiders installed FieldTurf, an all-weather, state-of-the-art synthetic turf.

McAfee Coliseum



Oakland Raiders home games are played at McAfee Coliseum in Oakland. The Coliseum opened on September 18, 1966 with the Raiders hosting the Kansas City Chiefs. The Coliseum, located three miles from Oakland International Airport, was built by the City of Oakland and the County of Alameda.

The all-time Coliseum record for football attendance is 62,748 fans on January 14, 2001, when the Raiders hosted the Baltimore Ravens in the AFC Championship Game.

The Coliseum underwent a major renovation that began during the Raiders 1995 season. The remodeled Coliseum's capacity is now 63,132, including added luxury suites, club levels, two new club lounges, new locker rooms, remodeled press box, new video scoreboards and additional amenities. The playing surface is natural grass. Nearly 100 million people have passed through the turnstiles of the Coliseum, which rests on 120 acres. Originally known as the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum, it was re-named Network Associates Coliseum in October, 1998, then was re-named McAfee Coliseum in time for the 2005 Raiders season.

The Greatness of the Raiders

The Raiders, The Team of the Decades, who began play in the American Football League in 1960, enter their 46th year of professional football competition, including the last 35 as a member of the National Football League.

For over five decades — the 1960s, '70s, '80s, '90s and the 2000s — the Raiders have been the most dominant team in professional football since Al Davis first pledged in 1963 to build the finest organization in pro sports.

The Raiders have hosted two of the last five AFC Championship Games and their 25 post-season victories are the most of any AFC team.

Pro Football's Dynamic Organization placed first in the AFC West in 2000, 2001 and 2002 despite playing among the toughest schedules in the NFL in each of those seasons. With their appearance in Super Bowl XXXVII, the Raiders became the only NFL team to play in Super Bowls in four different decades.

During these Decades of Dominance, the Raiders have won an American Football League Championship, four American Football Conference Championships, three World Championships of Professional Football, participated in five Super Bowls, played in 14 Championship games, won or tied for 17 Division Championships, had 21 playoff seasons, finished 33 seasons at .500 or better and played in 40 postseason games.

In that span, the Raiders have also produced five Pro Coaches of the Year, had 15 players inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame and produced 55 Pro Bowl players who made 163 Pro Bowl appearances.

The Raiders are the only team to have been in Super Bowls in the '60s, the '70s, the '80s and the 2000s. The Raiders have won the most games of any original American Football League franchise.

The Raiders are one of only three original American Football League teams to have won a Super Bowl since 1969 and have already done so three times. The Raiders are one of only three AFC teams to have won two Super Bowls since 1980. The Raiders are the only AFC team to have won Super Bowls under more than one head coach.

In road games, the Raiders have the best record in pro football at 172-158-8 and are one of only three NFL teams to post a winning record away from home. In their five Super Bowl appearances, the Raiders have been led by four different head coaches and started four different quarterbacks.

Since 1963, when Al Davis first took over the failing Oakland franchise that had struggled to win only nine of 42 league games in the initial three seasons of the new American Football League and pledged to build the finest organization in sports, the Raiders have totally dominated professional football in terms of consistent victory. During those memorable 42 years in Oakland and Los Angeles, the Raiders have won 381 league games, tied 11 and lost only 242. The Raiders continue to stand alone atop the NFL for this period with their winning percentage of .611 since 1963.

Commitment to Excellence has never been an idle phrase to those who have proudly represented the Raider organization during the '60s, '70s, '80s, '90s and now the new millennium as shown by their domination of pro football as the most successful organization for these decades.

Fifteen of the great players who proudly wore the Silver and Black, as well as owner-leader Al Davis, have already been enshrined in the Professional Football Hall of Fame. In 1970, as the Raiders began their second decade of play, the merger between the AFL and NFL became a reality on the field. In the 1970-04 period of interconference play, the Raiders have compiled a remarkable 83-46-1 record against present NFC rivals.

Another innovation came to professional football in 1970 — Monday Night Football. The Raiders total domination of this prime-time ABC television series has seen the Silver and Black build an incredible 36-21-1 record in Monday night play. In the 35 years of this series, the Raiders are 16-4-0 in Monday Night Football games at home.

For their five decades — the '60s, '70s, '80s, '90s and now the 2000s — the Raiders have had the greatest players, the greatest coaches, the greatest plays and participated in the greatest games in the annals of professional sports.

Challengers to Raider domination of professional football will arise as they have in the '60s, '70s, '80s, '90s and the new millennium. The Raider organization will continue to meet these challenges. The past has been glorious, but THE TRUE GREATNESS OF THE RAIDERS WILL CONTINUE IN ITS FUTURE.

RAIDERS OWNERS

AL DAVIS

An unyielding total commitment to excellence has marked the three-time World Champion Raiders monumental rise during the last 42 years to the very top of the professional sports world. During these decades of destiny, the Raiders battled their way to the best winning percentage in professional football.

In these memorable 42 years, the Raiders have had 28 winning seasons, including 16 in a row from 1965 through the 1980 World Championship season. In 33 of those seasons, the Raiders have earned a record of .500 or better.

Al Davis' six-decade professional football story, from assistant coach of the Chargers, to head coach and general manager of the Raiders, to Commissioner of the American Football League and finally to principal owner and president of the general partner of the organization with pro football's best winning percentage — The Oakland Raiders — is a standard that no one in the history of professional football can match for winning and excellence.

In April, 1966, the then 36-year-old Davis, head coach and general manager of the Raiders, became Commissioner of the American Football League. This was a post he accepted reluctantly, for first and foremost, Al Davis was a football coach, and knew that assuming the Commissionership would in all probability mean an end to his coaching career.

But AFL owners, in their battle with the rival National Football League, prevailed on Davis to accept the position. He was described by AFL president and Buffalo Bills owner Ralph Wilson as "a coaching genius and astute administrator."

Just eight weeks later, when pro football's two major leagues put an end to their six-year war, Davis was acclaimed nationally as the driving force who brought the leagues to merge. In 1969, he was once again a prime force in the dramatic realignment of professional football when two, 13-team conferences — the AFC and NFC — were formed for 1970.

As a member of the NFL Management Council's Executive Committee, Davis has been a major factor in achieving collective bargaining agreements with the players.

Al Davis first came to the Raiders in January 1963, dedicated to rescuing the faltering Oakland franchise and building the finest organization in professional sports. Just 33, Davis was the youngest man in pro football to hold the demanding dual positions of head coach and general manager.

But Davis already possessed 14 years coaching experience. He had been tabbed a "young coaching genius" by Sports Illustrated and "the most inventive mind in the country" by Scholastic Coach magazine.

The Raiders — "picked to finish dead last" — thundered to a 10-4 record and just missed the Division Championship. In 1963, Davis was named Pro Football Coach of the Year.

Perhaps his most singular honor is having made a record eight presentations of inductees to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. The eight great enshrinees to have selected Al Davis to make the presentation speeches on their behalf are Lance Alworth, Jim Otto, George Blanda, Willie Brown, Gene Upshaw, Fred Biletnikoff, Art Shell and Ted Hendricks.

Davis himself became enshrined on August 1, 1992 when he was presented for induction into the Pro Football Hall of Fame by the great former Raiders head coach and now leading television football analyst, John Madden.

In May of 1991, Al Davis became the very first recipient of the NFL Players Association's Retired Players Award of Excellence "for his contributions to the men who played the game."

Born July 4, 1929, Al Davis was raised in Brockton, Massachusetts and moved at an early age to Brooklyn, New York. He attended Wittenberg College and Syracuse University, earning a degree in English while participating in football, basketball and baseball.

Al Davis received a Letterman of Distinction Award from Syracuse University. In March of 1998, Davis was inducted into the NFL Alumni's "Order of the Leather Helmet," presented annually to "Individuals who have made significant contributions to the game of professional football."

On December 29, 1999, the Oakland Tribune and the Alameda Newspaper Group named Al Davis as the Bay Area's most significant sports figure of the 20th Century on a list that included such greats as Joe Montana, Willie Mays, Joe DiMaggio and Bill Russell. The Orange Bowl inducted Davis into its Hall of Fame in 2001.

In 1950, Davis was named line coach at Adelphi College in New York. He then went into the Army, being assigned as head football coach at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia. There he molded a national power service team and capped one season by defeating the University of Maryland, National Collegiate Champions, in a squad game.

Davis next served on the staff of the NFL's Baltimore Colts in 1954, at age 24, concentrating on player personnel work. During 1955-56, he was line coach and chief recruiter at The Citadel. He then spent three years at the University of Southern California as line coach.

In 1960, head coach Sid Gillman hired Davis as offensive end coach of the newly formed Los Angeles Chargers. After two Division Championships in just three years there, it was on to meet the challenges with the Raiders of Oakland in 1963.

Based on personal achievement, team achievement and contributions to the game, no one has had a more profound and lasting impact on professional football. In recognition of his status in pro football annals, NFL Films produced a film entitled, "AL DAVIS, NO. 1 FOR ALL TIME."

SUPER BOWL RINGS

The Raiders World Championship rings — awarded to players, coaches, staff and owners after the dominating victories in Super Bowl XI, Super Bowl XV and Super Bowl XVIII — are renowned as the most memorable pieces of championship team jewelry ever produced.

The rings were produced by Lenox Awards of St. Charles, Illinois, whose staff developed creative concepts incorporating the explicit guidelines established by the Raiders — white gold, a raised football-shaped crest of diamonds on a black surface and a design based on "massive excellence" that would recognize these crowning achievements by the Raider organization.

The Super Bowl XVIII ring design features three large diamonds to represent the three World Championships won within eight years, each centered in a football-shaped crest plus an additional 20, five-point diamonds.

The Super Bowl XV ring design, featuring two large center diamonds to symbolize the two World Championships won within five years and 33, five-point diamonds on the ring face, was developed by Al Davis, Head Coach Tom Flores, Al LoCasale and Lenox Awards President Tom Brasher.

RAIDERS COACHES

NORV TURNER
Head Coach

Norv Turner is in his second season as head coach of The Oakland Raiders. Turner, 53, has 20 years of pro coaching experience — eight as a head coach and six as an offensive coordinator in the NFL.

In his first season as head coach of the Raiders, the Silver and Black went 5-11 and ranked fourth in the AFC in net passing yards per play despite a season-ending injury to quarterback Rich Gannon, the 2002 NFL MVP, in the third game of 2004.

Under Turner's tutelage, Kerry Collins, who took over for Gannon, passed for 3,495 yards and 21 touchdowns. In 2004 under Turner, three Raider receivers amassed at least 500 yards receiving—Jerry Porter (998 yards on 64 receptions), Ronald Curry (679 on 50) and Doug Gabriel (551 on 33).

Turner was Washington's head coach from 1994-00 and directed the Redskins to four winning campaigns, including two in a row (1999 and 2000). His 1999 Redskins claimed their first NFC Eastern Division title since 1991. They defeated Detroit in an NFC first round playoff game, before dropping a one-point decision at Tampa Bay in the Divisional round.

Turner, who grew up in the Bay Area community of Martinez, has been regarded as one of the NFL's finest offensive coaches in his role as offensive coordinator for the Dallas Cowboys, San Diego Chargers and Miami Dolphins as well as head coach of the Redskins.

Turner was on Jimmy Johnson's Dallas coaching staff from 1991-93, where as the offensive coordinator he helped lead the Cowboys to two straight World Championships with wins in Super Bowl XXVII following the 1992 season and Super Bowl XXVIII following the 1993 season. He spent the past two seasons on Dave Wannstedt's Miami staff as Assistant Head Coach/Offensive Coordinator.

Ricky Williams' 1,372 rushing yards in 2002 marked the 10th time in Turner's 13 seasons as either a head coach or a coordinator that a running back surpassed the 1,000-yard rushing mark. In Turner's first season with the Dolphins, Miami ranked second in the NFL in rushing with an average of 156.4 yards per contest. The 2,502 total rushing yards were the third-highest total in Dolphins history.

Turner spent the 2001 season as the offensive coordinator with San Diego. Under Turner's guidance, the Chargers offense improved to the 11th-best unit in the NFL after having finished 28th overall the previous season. While Turner was head coach with Washington, he also served as offensive coordinator. During his seven-year tenure in Washington, he led the Redskins to a regular-season record of 49-59-1. The Redskins went 1-1 in the 1999 postseason.

That season, the Redskins offense finished the year as the league's second-ranked unit. He guided the Redskins to a record of 7-6 in 2000 before being released with three games to play in the season. The Redskins final three losses under Turner were by a total of six points, while their six losses over these first 13 games came by an average of less than four points.

Turner began his NFL coaching career as an assistant with the Los Angeles Rams in 1985. With Turner as the team's receivers coach, the Rams offense finished third, fourth and third, respectively, from 1988-90, his final three seasons with the club. In 1991, Turner took over a Cowboys offense that ranked 28th the previous season and helped lead them to consecutive NFL rankings of fourth overall in 1992 and 1993, as they captured back-to-back Super Bowl titles.

Throughout his coaching career, Turner has helped to mold some of the top skill position players in the NFL. As receivers coach with the Rams (1985-90), wide receiver Henry Ellard twice surpassed the 1,000-yard receiving mark, with an NFL-high 1,414 in 1988 and 1,382 the following year, placing him fourth in the NFL. In his final three years with the Rams (1988-90), tight end Pete Holohan averaged 53 catches a season and finished second among NFC tight ends in receiving in two of those three years.

With Turner as offensive coordinator with Dallas from 1991-93, running back Emmitt Smith led the NFL in rushing all three years. In addition, both quarterback Troy Aikman and wide receiver Michael Irvin finished in the top three in the NFL in passing and receiving, respectively, twice apiece. Also during Turner's tenure in Dallas, Jay Novacek led all NFL tight ends in receiving twice and averaged more than 57 receptions a season over that three-year period.

During his seven-year stint as head coach with the Redskins, the team had a 1,000-yard rusher four times and a 1,000-yard receiver on five occasions. In 1995, Terry Allen rushed for 1,309 yards while Ellard compiled 1,005 receiving yards. In 1996, Allen totaled 1,353 rushing yards while Ellard gained 1,014 receiving yards.

Under Turner, three different Redskin quarterbacks surpassed the 3,000-yard passing plateau, including Brad Johnson, who finished fourth in the NFL with 4,005 yards in 1999, the second-highest total in Redskins history. That same year, running back Stephen Davis led the NFC with 1,405 yards rushing, while two different receivers went over the 1,000-yard receiving mark. The other 3,000-yard passers were Gus Frerotte (3,453 in 1996) and Trent Green (3,441 in 1998).

In 2001, Turner's lone season as offensive coordinator for the Chargers, running back LaDainian Tomlinson led all NFL rookies with 1,236 yards rushing and 10 touchdowns on 339 attempts, while also catching an NFL rookie-best 59 passes. His rushing total ranked fifth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL.

In addition, quarterback Doug Flutie threw for 3,464 yards and wide receiver Curtis Conway had 71 receptions for 1,125 yards, marking just the second time in team history that the Chargers had a 3,000-yard passer, a 1,000-yard receiver and a 1,000-yard rusher in the same season.

Turner began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Oregon in 1975. The following year, he moved on to the University of Southern California where, for the next nine seasons, he served as the Trojans receivers coach (1976-79), defensive backs coach (1980), quarterbacks coach (1981-83) and offensive coordinator (1984).

In 1980, Turner tutored what is regarded as one of the finest defensive backfields in college football history. It included Ronnie Lott — the Pro Football Hall of Famer who played for the Raiders in 1991-92 — and Dennis Smith, both NFL first-round draft choices in 1981, along with Jeff Fisher, a seventh-round draft pick in 1981. During Turner's nine-year tenure at USC, the Trojans won all four Rose Bowls in which they appeared and took part in six bowl games overall, winning five of them.

The 1978 team went 12-1, including a victory over Michigan in the Rose Bowl, and claimed the National Championship. Turner was a three-year letterman (1972-74) as a quarterback at the University of Oregon, spending two seasons behind NFL Hall of Fame quarterback Dan Fouts. Turner and his wife, Nancy, have three children, Scott, Stephanie and Drew.

Turner is the 14th head coach in the history of the Raiders. Five of those coaches have been named Coach of the Year.

JIMMY RAYE
Asst. Head Coach/Offensive Coordinator

Jimmy Raye, who has 28 years of NFL coaching experience, is in his second year as Raiders Assistant Head Coach/Offensive Coordinator. With Raye serving in that capacity last year, the Raiders finished fourth in the AFC and fifth in the NFL in yards per play on first down and fourth in the AFC in net passing yards per game. Kerry Collins, who took over at quarterback after 2002 NFL MVP Rich Gannon was injured early in the season, passed for 3,495 yards and Jerry Porter just missed on a 1,000-yard receiving season, posting 998 yards. Prior to joining the Raiders, Raye, 59, spent two seasons with the New York Jets, adding the title of assistant head coach in 2003 after serving as senior offensive assistant in 2002. Raye has served as an NFL offensive coordinator for 10 seasons and on six separate occasions, with the Rams (twice — 1983-84, 1991), Tampa Bay (1985-86), New England (1990), Kansas City (1998-2000) and with Washington (2001). Raye helped formulate a Jets offense that saw running back Curtis Martin rush for 1,308 yards. Raye's knowledge and experience helped the Jets qualify for the postseason in 2002 as Curtis Martin rushed for 1,094 yards and Laveranues Coles caught 89 passes for 1,264 yards for a New York squad that was defeated by the Raiders in an AFC Divisional playoff. In 2001, Raye was the offensive coordinator for Washington when the Redskins finished fourth in the NFC in rushing and eighth overall in the NFL. Prior to joining the Redskins, Raye spent nine seasons with the Kansas City Chiefs, including the last three as offensive coordinator. Raye started with the Chiefs as offensive assistant/tight ends coach from 1992-93 and then coached Kansas City's running backs from 1994-97 before taking over coordinator duties. Raye was an integral part of the Chiefs run which saw the team qualify for the playoffs six times in nine seasons and capture AFC West championships in 1995 and 1997. Under Raye, the Chiefs gained more than 5,600 yards in 2000, the second-most in team history, and scored 390 points in 1999, the third-highest total in team history. While serving as running backs coach, Raye tutored a unit that led the NFL in rushing in 1995 with a 138.9-yard average per game. From 1995-97, the Chiefs under Raye had the third-best rushing attack in the NFL, averaging 136 yards per contest. With Raye handling the play-calling, the Rams ranked second in the NFL in rushing in 1984 as Eric Dickerson — the Pro Football Hall of Famer who played for the Raiders in 1992 — became the second NFL player to ever rush for more than 2,000 yards in a single season (2,105). In his two seasons with Tampa Bay, Raye coached James Wilder, who became one of the NFL's top all-purpose weapons, combining for 96 receptions and 2,004 rushing yards from 1985-86. Raye was a standout quarterback for the Michigan State Spartans (1965-67) and led the Spartans to two Big Ten titles and the 1966 Rose Bowl. He was drafted by the Los Angeles Rams and switched to defensive back in the NFL, playing for the Rams before being traded to the Philadelphia Eagles in 1969. The Fayetteville, North Carolina native began his coaching career in 1971 at his alma mater, Michigan State, where he stayed for five years (1971-75). He served a brief stint at Wyoming in 1976 before moving to the NFL ranks, beginning with San Francisco (1977), Detroit (1977-79), Atlanta (1980-82, 1987-89), the L.A. Rams (1983-84, 1991), Tampa Bay (1985-86) and New England (1990). Raye and his wife Edwena are the parents of two children, daughter Robin and son Jimmy III, who currently serves as the San Diego Chargers director of college scouting.

ROB RYAN
Defensive Coordinator

Rob Ryan is in his second year as Raiders defensive coordinator. With Ryan operating as a defensive coordinator for the first time at the NFL level, the Raiders finished sixth in the AFC and seventh in the NFL in rushing yards allowed per attempt. Before joining the Raiders, the 19-year coaching veteran spent four seasons as linebackers coach on Bill Belichick's New England Patriots coaching staff. Ryan's linebacking corps contributed to the Patriots posting victories in Super Bowls XXXVI and XXXVIII. The 42-year-old Ryan is the son of National Football League defensive coaching legend Buddy Ryan. The younger Ryan has previous experience as a defensive coordinator at the college level, having served in that capacity at Oklahoma State from 1994-95 and at Hutchinson Community College in 1996. In 2003, Ryan's linebacking corps helped the Patriots defense rank first in the NFL in fewest points allowed (238) while ranking seventh overall in the NFL in total defense. Ryan's unit also contributed to one of the best scoring defenses in franchise history in 2001, as the Patriots allowed just 17 points per game. It was the lowest point production allowed by the Patriots in 24 years when the 1977 squad held their opponents to just 15.5 points per game. Ryan originally entered the NFL coaching ranks in 1994 as defensive backs coach on his father's staff at the Arizona Cardinals. He also coached Cardinals cornerbacks and safeties in 1995. With Ryan as his position coach, cornerback Aeneas Williams earned two trips to the Pro Bowl as a member of the Cardinals in 1994 and 1995. In 1995, the Cardinals 32 interceptions and 42 total takeaways led the NFL. From 1997-99, Ryan was Oklahoma State's defensive coordinator, where the Cowboys defense was continually ranked among the best in the nation. In 1999, they were ranked 10th in the nation in total defense and ninth in passing yards allowed. In 1998, they were second in the nation with 41 sacks. In his first season at Oklahoma State, the Cowboys defense finished among the nation's Top 20 in turnover margin, rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense, allowing just 302.7 yards per game. It was an over 100-yard improvement per game from the year before and helped the Cowboys produce an 8-4 mark and an Alamo Bowl berth. He began his coaching career as an assistant at Western Kentucky in 1987 and then coached outside linebackers at Ohio State in 1988. Ryan then spent five seasons at Tennessee State, where he coached running backs (1989-91), linebackers (1992) and the defensive line (1993). He served as defensive coordinator at Hutchinson Community College in 1996, where they led the nation in total defense (228 yards per game) and in sacks (56). His defense also set a national record by forcing 49 turnovers, which generated eight touchdowns in 10 games. Hutchinson also topped the conference in total defense, run defense and pass defense. Ryan played three seasons as a defensive end and outside linebacker at Southwestern Oklahoma State. His twin brother, Rex, is defensive coordinator for the Baltimore Ravens. The Ryan family includes wife Kristin, three children — sons Joseph and Matthew and daughter Dimitra.

JOE AVEZZANO
Special Teams

Joe Avezzano, a 14-year NFL coaching veteran, returns to coach Raider special teams for a second season after spending two seasons as head coach of the Arena Football League's Dallas Desperados. Under Avezzano's direction in 2004, punter Shane Lechler earned a second Pro Bowl after leading the NFL in punting and kicker Sebastian Janikowski was third in the AFC and fourth in the NFL in field goal percentage. In 2002, he served in the dual role of the Desperados head coach and the Dallas Cowboys special teams coach. Avezzano is the only three-time winner of the NFL Special Teams Coach of the Year Award (1991, 1993 and 1998), voted on by NFL special teams coaches. Avezzano's units assisted Dallas in earning back-to-back Super Bowls following the 1992 and 1993 seasons and another Super Bowl crown following the 1995 season. In 1998, Dallas was one of two teams in the NFL ranked in the top 12 in all four major kicking game categories, including leading the league in kickoff coverage (18.5), earning Avezzano his third Special Teams Coach of the Year Award. Avezzano won his second NFL Special Teams Coach of the Year Award in 1993 when his units helped Dallas finish as the only team in the NFL to rank in the Top 10 in the league in all four major kicking game categories. Avezzano was honored by his NFL special teams coaching peers for the first time in 1991 when the Cowboys led the NFL in points scored on special teams (20) and in kickoff return average (21.7). Under Avezzano from 2002-03, the Desperados went 18-15 with two postseason appearances and a division title in the franchise's first two years of existence. Prior to entering the NFL coaching ranks, Avezzano was offensive line coach at Texas A&M from 1985-88, during which time the Aggies won three Southwest Conference titles and two Cotton Bowls. He also served as offensive coordinator for Texas A&M in 1988. From 1980-84, Avezzano was Oregon State's head coach after spending three seasons as offensive coordinator at Tennessee. He was offensive line coach at the University of Pittsburgh from 1973-76, helping the 1976 Panthers win the national championship. Avezzano began his coaching career at Washington High in Massillon, Ohio, and then coached at Florida State, his alma mater, in 1968 and at Iowa State from 1969-72. The Yonkers, New York native played guard at Florida State and was drafted by the Boston Patriots. He was a college teammate of Raiders assistant and Pro Football Hall of Famer Fred Biletnikoff.

MARTIN BAYLESS
Special Teams Assistant

Martin Bayless, who played 13 NFL seasons, is in his second year as Raiders special teams assistant. Bayless was defensive assistant for the NFC Champion Carolina Panthers in 2003 and coached defensive backs and special teams in NFL Europe for Amsterdam. He played in 193 NFL games from 1984-96 with 150 starts at defensive back for the St. Louis Cardinals, Buffalo Bills, San Diego Chargers, Kansas City Chiefs and Washington Redskins. Raiders Head Coach Norv Turner was the Redskins head coach when Bayless spent a year in Washington in 1994. Bayless, who entered the NFL as a fourth round pick by the Cardinals, posted 12 career interceptions, 11.5 sacks and one TD. The former Bowling Green star led the nation in interceptions as a senior with 10 and finished his college career with 27 interceptions. Bayless also has previous coaching experience at the University of North Carolina and at Castle Park High in the San Diego area.

FRED BILETNIKOFF
Wide Receivers

Fred Biletnikoff, in his 31st year with the Raiders, returns for his 14th season as receivers coach. He has coached receivers for the Silver and Black the last eight seasons after spending the 1995-96 seasons in charge of quality control. In 2004, Biletnikoff coached two wide receivers who caught at least 50 passes, Jerry Porter, who led the Silver and Black with 64 and just missed the 1,000-yard receiving mark with 998, and Ronald Curry with 50. Biletnikoff has coached three receivers who caught at least 50 passes in a single year (Jerry Rice — 92, Tim Brown—81 and Porter—51) and a 1,000-yard receiver (Rice—1,211) in 2002. He coached two, 1,000-yard receivers in Brown (1,165) and Rice (1,139) in 2001. The 62-year-old Biletnikoff had spent the 1989-94 seasons coaching Raiders wide receivers. The Pro Football Hall of Famer played 14 seasons for the Raiders from 1965-78. Biletnikoff coached wide receivers for Calgary of the Canadian Football League from 1987-88. He coached for two United States Football League teams: the Arizona Wranglers in 1986 and the Oakland Invaders in 1985. He also coached at Diablo Valley Junior College in 1984, Palomar Junior College in 1983, Orange Glen High School in 1982 and with Montreal of the CFL in 1980. He played in 190 games for the Raiders and was Most Valuable Player in Super Bowl XI. The Erie, Pennsylvania native was the Raiders all-time leading receiver (589 catches) until 1997, when Brown broke the mark. He played in three AFL and five AFC title games and in Super Bowls II and XI. Biletnikoff played in two AFL All-Star Games and four Pro Bowls after joining the Raiders as a 1965 second round draft choice from Florida State. His family includes wife Angela and five children.

WILLIE BROWN
Squad Development

Pro Football Hall of Famer Willie Brown is in his 35th year with the Raiders and 11th season as Director of Squad Development and defensive backs assistant. He was secondary coach for the Raiders from 1979-88, during which the team won two World Championships of Professional Football in Super Bowls XV and XVIII. He also coached the secondary in 1997 while serving as Director of Squad Development. Brown was an assistant at Long Beach State before taking over as head coach in 1991. In 1994, he was head coach at Los Angeles Jordan High. Brown earned his master's degree in Education at Long Beach State. He starred for the Raiders from 1967-78, beginning his pro career as a free agent with Houston. He spent 1963-66 with Denver before being traded to the Raiders. He played in 205 games and was chosen for three AFL All-Star Games and four NFL Pro Bowls. He shares the Raider career interceptions record with 39, holds the Super Bowl record for the longest interception with a 75-yard TD return in Super Bowl XI and is one of only two players to have intercepted at least one pass in 16 straight seasons. He intercepted 54 passes in his pro career and was selected to the AFL-NFL 25-year All-Star team. The Yazoo, Mississippi native starred at Grambling from 1959-62 and is a member of the Louisiana Sports, Grambling State, Southwestern Athletic Conference and Mississippi Sports Black Sports and Bay Area Sports Halls of Fame. The Brown family includes wife Yvonne, two daughters and one son.

SAM CLANCY
Defensive Line

Sam Clancy is in his second season as Raiders defensive line coach. Prior to joining the Silver and Black, Clancy, 47, coached the defensive line for New Orleans for four seasons, during which time the Saints were recognized as building a tradition of top-notch defensive line play. The Saints defensive line averaged over 30 sacks per season when Clancy took over as that position's coach in 2000. Clancy's unit was a major contributor to the Saints leading the NFL in sacks in 2000 with 66, 48.5 by the defensive line. In 2001, his troops contributed to the Saints ranking second in the NFC in sacks and seventh vs. the run. Clancy played 11 pro seasons as a defensive lineman, entering the NFL as an 11th round pick by Seattle in 1982. After spending his first two pro seasons with the Seahawks, he played in the USFL for Pittsburgh (1984) and Memphis (1985) before returning to the NFL to play for Cleveland (1985-88) and Indianapolis (1989-93). Clancy was a four-year letterman in basketball at the University of Pittsburgh, but did not play football. He was a member of the 1979 U.S. Pan American Games squad that won the gold medal. He was a third round pick by the NBA's Phoenix Suns, but opted to play in the NFL. One of his sons, Sam Jr., was a second round pick by the Philadelphia 76ers in 2002 following a stellar college career at USC. The Clancy family also includes wife Terri, sons Samario, Samarcus and Evann and daughter Samantha.

JIM COLLETTO
Offensive Line

Jim Colletto has 38 years of combined experience coaching in college and the NFL, including 11 years as head coach at the major college level. The San Francisco native, who attended high school in Monterey, spent six years as head coach at Purdue and five years as head coach at Cal State-Fullerton. Prior to joining the Raiders as offensive line coach in 2004, Colletto coached the offensive line for the Baltimore Ravens for six seasons. His offensive line corps helped Baltimore capture the NFL rushing title in 2003 with 2,669 yards (nearly 170 yards per game) and enabled running back Jamal Lewis to record the second-best rushing total in NFL history (2,066) and become the fifth running back in league annals to run for over 2,000 yards. Colletto coached an offensive line that saw the Ravens break the team rushing record twice, first in 2000 when they won Super Bowl XXXV and again in 2003. Colletto was head coach at Purdue from 1991-96 and at Cal State-Fullerton from 1975-79. He spent two seasons as offensive coordinator at Notre Dame (1997-98), and served in the same capacity at Ohio State (1988-90), Arizona State (1985-87) and Purdue (1982-84). He served stints as offensive line coach at UCLA, his alma mater (1976-68 and 1980-81), Brown (1969), Xavier of Ohio (1970-71) and Pacific (1972-74). Colletto played both football and baseball at UCLA, where he was an All-League defensive end and captain of a Bruins team that beat Michigan State in the 1965 Rose Bowl. He led the Bruins in rushing as a sophomore fullback in 1963. He was a two-time all-league selection in baseball after posting a .306 career batting average and was inducted into the UCLA Baseball Hall of Fame in 2000. The Colletto family includes wife Suzanne and their three children: Dawn, Dan and Patrick.

JEFF FISH
Strength and Conditioning

Jeff Fish is in his second season with the Raiders. Fish spent three seasons as head strength and conditioning coach at the University of Missouri, where he oversaw a program that worked with more than 485 student-athletes from all 20 Missouri sports teams. Fish, 38, was assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Kansas City Chiefs from 1999-00 after interning in that department for the Chiefs in 1998. Prior to joining the Chiefs, the Ithaca, New York native served as a strength and conditioning intern for Tampa Bay in 1997. The certified strength and conditioning specialist was strength and conditioning coach at the University of Tulsa from 1995-97 after serving in the same capacity at Kent State from 1993-95. From 1991-93, he coached strength and conditioning at Clemson. Fish began his coaching career as a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach at Western Michigan in 1989. He played football as a wide receiver at Western Carolina.

CHRIS GRISWOLD
Quality Control, Defense

Chris Griswold is in his fourth season with the Raiders, working with the defensive line and handling opponent breakdowns and computer operations. Prior to joining the Raiders, Griswold, 32, spent three seasons on the football coaching staff at Princeton University. In addition to coaching defensive tackles at Princeton, Griswold oversaw the football program's digital video and computer operations. He coached the defensive line at Allegheny College after graduating from Hobart College in Geneva, New York with a degree in history. Griswold, a native of Hornell, New York, was a four-year letterman at Hobart as a defensive lineman and served as team captain as a senior. The Griswold family includes wife Jen and sons Tim and Greg.

PAT JONES
Outside Linebackers

Pat Jones, who was Oklahoma State's head coach for 11 seasons, is in his second season coaching outside linebackers for the Raiders. Before becoming head coach at Oklahoma State, he was the school's defensive coordinator for five seasons. From 1984-94, Jones was head coach at Oklahoma State, where he posted a 62-60-3 record and was at the helm during the school's only 10-win seasons (1984, 1987 and 1988) in its football history. Jones led Oklahoma State to four bowl games — 1984 and 1985 Gator Bowl, 1987 Sun Bowl and 1988 Holiday Bowl — posting three victories in those contests. The 57-year old Jones followed Jimmy Johnson at Oklahoma State and finished as the school's winningest coach, was twice named Big Eight Coach of the Year (1984 and 1992) and was National Coach of the Year by Football Yearbook in 1984. He coached nine All-Americans at Oklahoma State, including recent Pro Football Hall of Fame inductee and 1988 Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders and former NFL stars Thurman Thomas and Leslie O'Neal and current pro Jason Gildon. Jones began his coaching career in the Little Rock, Arkansas public school system in 1969 before joining then-defensive coordinator Jimmy Johnson at Arkansas as assistant defensive line coach from 1974-75. He then coached defensive line at Southern Methodist (1976-77), defensive ends at Pittsburgh (1978) before serving as defensive ends coach/defensive coordinator at Oklahoma State from 1979-83. His wife's name is Becky.

CLAYTON LOPEZ
Defensive Backs

Clayton Lopez joined the Oakland Raiders staff as defensive backs coach in February 2004 after spending five seasons with the Seattle Seahawks. Lopez began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, the University of Nevada, from 1995-96. Lopez was promoted to running backs coach and recruiting coordinator from 1997-98. During his short stay in the collegiate ranks, Lopez helped Nevada continue its winning tradition and produced a 1,000-yard rusher both years under his tutelage. In 1999, Lopez broke into the professional ranks with the Seahawks as the defensive assistant/quality control coach. He operated in this capacity for three years, assisting with coaching the linebackers and secondary. In 2002, Lopez was promoted to assistant secondary coach where his unit helped Seattle qualify for the playoffs in 2003. As a defensive back at Nevada, Lopez helped guide the team to three conference titles from 1991-94, finishing his career with 150 tackles and three interceptions. He finished third on the team with 78 stops in his senior year. Lopez received his master's degree in Counseling and Education Psychology in 1999 and his bachelor's in Psychology in 1995, both from the University of Nevada. Lopez grew up in Los Angeles, where he was a three-sport letterman in football, basketball and track at Serra High in Gardena.

DON MARTINDALE
Inside Linebackers

Don Martindale, a 17-year coaching veteran with experience as a college defensive coordinator and a coach on a Division 1-AA National Championship team, is in his second year as Raiders inside linebackers coach. Martindale spent three seasons at Western Kentucky, serving as the Hilltoppers defensive coordinator in 2003. Under Martindale, Western Kentucky ranked sixth in I-AA in total defense and 14th in scoring defense. He also helped produce a group of linebackers that were considered among I-AA's best. Martindale spent the first two seasons as Western Kentucky's inside linebackers coach and special teams coordinator. In 2002, his unit played a key role in helping Western Kentucky capture the NCAA Division I-AA National Championship. Martindale entered the coaching ranks as an assistant at his alma mater, Defiance College, in 1986. In 1987, he was defensive coordinator at Defiance and then spent the next six years coaching at the Ohio high school level. The Dayton, Ohio native was a defensive assistant at Notre Dame from 1994-95, helping the Irish earn a berth in the 1995 Fiesta Bowl and the 1996 Orange Bowl. Martindale then coached defensive ends at the University of Cincinnati in 1996 before spending the 1997 and 1998 seasons as the Bearcats linebackers coach and special teams coordinator. He helped Cincinnati appear in the 1997 Humanitarian Bowl as the defense was in the top five nationally both against the run and in forced turnovers while the special teams topped the conference in at least one category in both seasons he mentored the group. In 1999, Martindale was defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Western Illinois. His family includes wife Laura, daughter Cassie and son Ty.

KEITH MILLARD
Defensive Line Assistant

Keith Millard, an NFL first round draft choice, former All Pro and Pro Bowl performer, is in his first year as Raiders assistant defensive line coach. The Pleasanton, California native spent the past four seasons as an assistant for Denver, where in 2004 he coached a defensive line that helped the Broncos finish fourth in the NFL in total defense and seventh in sacks. In 2003, he coached a defensive line that ranked fourth in the NFL in sacks and was the only defensive line in the league to have three players with at least 8.5 sacks. Millard, 42, was a first round pick by Minnesota (13th selection overall) in 1984 and went on to become a three-time All-Pro performer and two-time Pro Bowler as a defensive lineman from 1985-93. He began his pro career in the USFL, playing one season with the Jacksonville Bulls and ranked second in the league in sacks (12) behind Reggie White (12.5). Millard was voted to the All-USFL team and was named to the All-Time USFL second team. He joined the Vikings in 1985 and as a rookie led the team with 11 sacks as a defensive end and followed with 10.5 in 1986. Millard moved to defensive tackle, and in 1989, set an NFL record for sacks by an interior lineman with 18 en route to his second Pro Bowl invitation and third straight All-Pro honor. He also earned his second NFL Defensive Lineman of the Year Award in 1989 and was named NFL Defensive Player of the Year. Before joining the Denver staff, Millard served as defensive line coach of the XFL's San Francisco Demons in 2001. Millard began his coaching career in 1996 as defensive line coach at Fort Lewis College, then was defensive coordinator/linebackers coach at Menlo College from 1997-00. He was defensive line coach for the West team in the 2002 East-West Shrine All-Star Game. Millard also had NFL playing stints with Seattle (1992), Green Bay (1992) and Philadelphia (1993). He played in 93 career games and posted 58 sacks, two interceptions and one touchdown on a fumble return. After starring at Foothill High in Pleasanton, Millard played at Washington State where he earned first-team All-Pac-10 honors as a senior and won the Morris Trophy as the Pac-10's top defensive lineman. He and his wife Paula have five children: Dustin Johnny, Jack, Keith Jr. and Mandy.

CHUCK PAGANO
Defensive Assistant

Chuck Pagano is a 21-year coaching veteran at the pro and college level. Pagano, 44, spent the past four years as an assistant coach with the Cleveland Browns. In 2003, his unit helped the Browns tie a franchise record for fewest passing touchdowns allowed with 13. Under Pagano's tutelage in 2001, the secondary accounted for 28 of the Browns NFL-leading 33 interceptions, which also set a new team mark. Pagano coached the secondary and was special teams coordinator at the University of Miami (Florida) from 1995-00. During the 2000 season, his secondary was tabbed the nation's best by Football News. His corps did not allow a passing touchdown over the last 27 quarters of the 1999 season. As special teams coordinator for the Hurricanes, his squad blocked 39 kicks in 59 games, including a school single-season record 12 blocks in 1996. The Boulder, Colorado native attended Wyoming, where he was a four-year letterman and two-year starter at safety. Pagano began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at USC from 1984-85 before serving in the same capacity at Miami in 1986. He was outside linebackers coach at Boise State from 1987-88, then coached defensive backs at East Carolina (1989), and Nevada-Las Vegas (1990). In 1991, Pagano was defensive coordinator at UNLV. He returned to East Carolina to coach defensive backs and outside linebackers from 1992-94. Pagano's family includes wife Tina and their three children: Tara, Taylor and Tori.

SKIP PEETE
Running Backs

Skip Peete joined the Raiders in 1998 as running backs coach after serving in the same capacity at UCLA from 1996-97. His unit contributed to the Raiders leading the NFL in total offense in 2002 and capturing the AFC Championship. Under Peete's tutelage, the Raiders finished first in the NFL in rushing in 2000 at nearly 155 yards per game. During his two seasons at UCLA, Peete coached running back Skip Hicks to consecutive 1,000-yard and 20-plus touchdown seasons. Prior to serving as an assistant at UCLA, Peete was wide receivers coach for Rutgers University. From 1993-94, he served in the same capacity with Michigan State. Peete was a member of the University of Pittsburgh coaching staff from 1988-92. While with the Panthers, he coached the running backs from 1991-92 and tutored New York Jets running back Curtis Martin. Peete worked with the wide receivers at Pittsburgh from 1989-90 after serving as a graduate assistant in 1988. The Phoenix, Arizona native began his collegiate playing career at the University of Arizona before transferring to the University of Kansas. While at Kansas, he was an all-Big Eight wide receiver in 1985 and was voted team captain during his senior campaign in 1986. In 1987, Peete was a wide receiver and special teams performer with the New York Jets. Peete's father Willie is a longtime college and NFL coach who retired from the pro player personnel department for the Chicago Bears. His brother, Rodney, is a veteran NFL quarterback who played for the Raiders in 2000 and 2001. His wife's name is Rebeca.

JOHN SHOOP
Quarterbacks

John Shoop possesses a decade of NFL coaching experience, including three years as a pro offensive coordinator. The 35-year-old Shoop spent the 2004 season as quarterbacks coach for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers after serving as offensive coordinator for the Chicago Bears from 2001-03. In his first season directing the Bears offense in 2001, Shoop helped Chicago win the NFC Central Division title with a 13-3 record. In 2002 under Shoop's direction, the Bears offense produced a Pro Bowl wide receiver in Marty Booker, who became the first Chicago wide receiver to earn those All-Star game honors since 1971. In 2001, with Shoop directing the offense, Anthony Thomas earned Offensive Rookie of the Year honors after setting a Bears rookie rushing record with 1,183 yards. Shoop was promoted to Bears offensive coordinator after spending the 1999-00 seasons as Chicago's quarterbacks coach. Prior to joining the Bears, Shoop spent four seasons with Carolina, where he began his NFL coaching career. Shoop was offensive quality control assistant for the Panthers from 1995-96 where he was a member of a staff that led the team to the NFC Championship Game in 1996. He was then promoted to quarterbacks coach, serving in that capacity for Carolina from 1997-98, where he worked with current Raiders quarterback Kerry Collins. Shoop began his coaching career as a volunteer quarterbacks coach at Dartmouth in 1991, then served as a graduate assistant at Vanderbilt from 1992-94, where he also earned a master's degree in education. The Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania native graduated from the University of the South, where he played quarterback for four seasons. Shoop and his wife Marcia have one child, Sidney.

CHRIS TURNER
Offensive Assistant

RAIDERS RADIO NETWORK

For the second straight year, The Oakland Raiders, the Team of the Decades, will broadcast their 2005 games on KSFO 560 AM, the Bay Area's Talk Leader. Earlier this year, the Raiders announced a new three-year contract for their games to be broadcast on KSFO 560 AM, the Bay Area's Talk Leader. "We are pleased to extend and build upon our relationship with KSFO. Together, we look forward to the upcoming season," said Raiders Chief Executive Amy Trask.

In 2004, the Bay Area talk radio station served as the anchor for the multi-state, multi-station Raiders Radio Network. In 2005, the Oakland Raiders broadcasts on KSFO will include extensive pre- and postgame shows as well as Raiders-specific programming during the week.

KSFO Radio enjoyed a very successful relationship with Oakland Raiders football in 2004. The Raiders' Commitment to Excellence and commitment to winning in 2005 is the quality of professional sport that KSFO is excited about presenting on the radio.

"KSFO Radio is very pleased to present Oakland Raiders football on 560 AM. The long, proud tradition of the Silver and Black on a heritage Bay Area radio station like KSFO is an excellent fit," said Greg Raab, KSFO Radio Marketing Director.

KSFO 560 AM is the Bay Area's Talk Leader, committed to presenting "the news and views you won't hear anywhere else" along with Oakland Raiders football. KSFO Radio is the ABC-owned talk radio station broadcasting at 560 AM in San Francisco and throughout Northern California.

Greg Papa returns for his ninth season broadcasting the Silver and Black. Papa also serves the Bay Area as the television voice of the San Francisco Giants after previously handling broadcast duties for the Oakland A's. Papa got his start in broadcasting in 1984, as the Indiana Pacers back-up announcer and in 1986 did play-by-play for the Golden State Warriors.

Papa will team up with former Raiders quarterback and head coach Tom Flores. Flores is one of only two people in NFL history to have a Super Bowl ring as a player, assistant coach and head coach. He earned his rings as a reserve quarterback with the Kansas City Chiefs in Super Bowl IV, as an assistant with the Raiders in Super Bowl XI and as a head coach of the Silver and Black in Super Bowls XV and XVIII.

RAIDERS SPANISH RADIO/TELEVISION

Raiders Spanish Radio is back bigger and better than ever! The Spanish-language radio network practically covers the entire state of California. Plus, the game day broadcast has been spiced up for 2005 with many new features. Raiders fans can listen to veteran Bay Area broadcasters Erwin Higueros and Ambrosio Rico calling all of the action on KZSF 1370 AM "La Kaliente," the Official Flagship Spanish Radio Station for the Oakland Raiders in 2005.

Higueros and Rico are reunited after having worked on Spanish broadcasts of Raiders games in 1995 and 1996. Higueros has more than 13 years of experience in Spanish radio. He's the only Spanish broadcaster to announce NFL, MLB and NHL games. Higueros also currently announces baseball for the San Francisco Giants. Rico has been on the Bay Area sports broadcasting scene since 1991.

The broadcasts open with a pregame show 15 minutes before kickoff. Higueros and Rico analyze the preceding contest, the NFL standings, the history between the two teams meeting that day and the keys to victory for the Raiders and the opponent.

After the game, Higueros and Rico wrap up with a summary of each quarter, discuss that day's scores across the NFL and look ahead to the next week's opponent.

RAIDERS SPANISH TELEVISION

The Raiders will again partner with Bay Area Spanish-language television station Telemundo KSTS-TV Channel 48 to produce a five-part series special that focuses on the Silver and Black's progress throughout the 2005 season. KSTS Sports Anchor Ramon Diaz co-hosts the show with the Raiders Patty Herrera to take periodic looks at the Raiders in 2005.

The specials, produced by the Raiders own Silver and Black Productions, will air regularly throughout the season.

RAIDERS TV

Silver and Black Productions, the Raiders in-house television production operation, will once again provide viewers with innovative, cutting-edge and behind-the-scenes content devoted solely to the Oakland Raiders.

Two dynamic television shows will air in the Bay Area as well as in additional television outlets throughout California, Nevada, Hawaii, New Mexico and Idaho and will feature the personalities that make up the NFL's most dynamic organization.

In addition, Silver and Black Productions will produce all four of the team's preseason games.

"The Silver and Black Show" consists of an in-depth comprehensive week-by-week analysis of the Silver and Black throughout the entire 2005 NFL season. The show also offers a retrospective look at the previous week's Raider game and a breakdown preview of the upcoming contest with a look at the matchups.

Features on players past and present are part of the new, cutting-edge program profiling the Silver and Black. Raiders radio play-by-play man Greg Papa hosts the half-hour show while Raiders Legend Jim Plunkett, MVP of Super Bowl XV, is co-host.

"Behind the Shield" provides viewers with unprecedented access for an inside look at pro football's winningest team. This unique show offers a behind-the-scenes perspective on the Raiders preparation for the upcoming week's game as experienced by the entire organization including players, coaches and team personnel.

Raiders Legend George Atkinson, who roamed the secondary for the Silver and Black from 1968-77, hosts this television show.

Both shows are produced by the Raiders own Silver and Black Productions. The shows originate from Silver and Black Productions state-of-the-art studio located within the Raiders 100,000-square foot Alameda facility.

RAIDERS.COM

The Raiders were among the first professional sports teams to launch an official web site when the team went online in 1995. Since then, the site has evolved into one of the top online destinations in all of sports.

In late 2002, the Raiders broke new ground again with the launch of Raiders en Español.com (www.raidersenespanol.com), the first complete Spanish-language web site in the National Football League.

In October 2004, the Raiders launched Raiders in Chinese which features original content in Mandarin. In November of 2004, the Raiders launched Raiders auf Deutsch and became the first team in the NFL to offer original content in German.

Located at http://www.raiders.com, the site continues to provide comprehensive photography, official press releases, transactions, player biographies, profiles on current and former players and team personnel, along with features and updates on the Raiders Commitment to Community. Raiders.com also features the first daily online video news program in the NFL — "On the Edge" — which features in-depth interviews, press conference highlights and much more. "On the Edge" is now in its fifth season.

During games, fans can access the Raiders.com Game Center and view live updates, sideline action photography and listen to a live audio stream from the Raiders flagship radio station — KSFO 560. Comprehensive game recaps, postgame press conferences and complete game statistics are available after each game.

In addition, Raiders.com provides complete NFL Draft, team mini-camp, training camp and Raiderettes coverage. In April 2005, the team once again offered "live" coverage of the NFL Draft in both English and Spanish.

In 2005, the official web site of The Oakland Raiders — www.raiders.com — and its sister site Raiders en Español — www.raidersenespanol.com — will continue to use cutting edge technology to provide the Raider Nation with news, information, team history and entertainment, offering visitors an in-depth, state-of-the-art look at the Silver and Black.

THE RAIDER IMAGE

THE RAIDER IMAGE, LLC (The Image) is the official team shop of The Oakland Raiders. All stores are owned and operated by The Oakland Raiders out of the team's headquarters in Alameda, California. The Image began as a retail catalog while the team was in Los Angeles.

In addition, The Image currently operates 16 brick and mortar locations throughout California. The Image also plans to increase that number this season.

The Raider Image online store opened for business in September of 1999 on the Raiders official web site, www.raiders.com. The Image e-commerce store provides the best selection of Raider merchandise to Raider fans around the world. In August of 2000, the Raiders followed up their internet success with their first store located at Southland Mall in Hayward, California, giving Bay Area fans an opportunity to shop in a store dedicated to Raider merchandise.

As of September 2005, there are 16 Raider Image locations throughout California to reach out to the many fans across the state. There are currently seven Bay Area locations including Hegenberger Gateway in Oakland, Sun Valley Mall in Concord, Southland Mall in Hayward, and West Gate Center in San Leandro. The Image has also expanded east to the valley with stores in Arden Fair Mall in Sacramento and Weberstown Mall in Stockton. To serve our Southern California fans, locations were opened at Lakewood Mall, Montebello Town Center, Ontario Mills and Fox Hills Mall in Culver City. In addition, The Image added a new twist with the June 2003 opening of its Signature Store at Universal CityWalk in Universal City.

The successful chain of stores continues to grow with two new stores in 2005. The Image added a store at the Hegenberger Gateway in Oakland and in Oakridge Mall in San Jose with others on the horizon. The Raider Image will continue to expand to meet the needs of Raider fans around the world.

Raiders Train in Napa

The Oakland Raiders are now in their ninth year of summer training in Napa, California. The Raiders are housed at the Napa Valley Marriott Hotel and Conference Center with practice sessions held at the adjacent Redwood Middle School.

The state-of-the-art facility located in the Napa Valley has two, 100-yard practice fields with an additional 50-yard field.

The Raiders summer training facility also consists of a 10,000-square foot field house that includes locker rooms, showers, training and equipment quarters. There's an additional 3,000-square foot outdoor weight training area.

The facilities serve the Raiders during the summer training camp period and are available for Napa youth activities and other community functions during the year.
